Poppy

Seating

Today's thinkers, creators, and doers seek comfortable, meaningful spaces that support their various work processes and creativity.

Poppy™ seating gives people the freedom to choose work settings that best accommodate their activities and preferences, while offering the visual comfort and tactile softness of home. With Poppy, you can create inviting, flexible spaces that foster the creative performance crucial for innovation.

Stylish and Charming

Poppy was created out of a design partnership between Haworth and Patricia Urquiola, a keen observer of how people interact in today's workplace settings. Poppy has a light, uncomplicated ease and global style that balance workplace needs and gentle, domestic warmth.

Versatile and Accommodating

From meeting rooms to lobbies, touchdown spaces to offices, Poppy is always a welcoming presence. Its curved lines and soft edges form an organic shape where people feel cozy and warm. Poppy also complements many other products in the Haworth portfolio.

Design Choices

Sometimes playful and unexpected, other times classically simple, Poppy guest and lounge chairs offer an abundance of opportunities to express any personality or culture. Choose from a range of base options and beautiful upholstery options, including bleach cleanable textiles, leathers, and faux leathers. A tablet surface with dual-pivot arm is also available in paint, laminate, and wood finishes on the Poppy guest chair with a five-star base to create a personal workspace anywhere.

Statement of line may vary by global region.

Designed by Patricia Urquiola

Born in Oviedo, Spain, Patricia Urquiola is an award-winning designer and architect with a studio in Milan. Patricia has partnered with Haworth since 2013, sharing her innovative perspective and expertise on product and space design.
